June is Dairy Month

IT WOULD be difficult to estimate how greatly America's high standard of health is directly due to our dairy farmers and milk distributors.

For milk is more lavishly available to more families in America, and at lower cost, than in any other country.

It is the best milk in the world, and abundant supply plus our system of low-cost distribution, create a standard which is a model for the world. One out of every 15 U. S. families is dependent on milk for a livelihood, and 1949 cash farm income from milk, in Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina alone, totalled $122,162,000.

A situation so mutually favorable to producer, distributor and consumer could exist only under our free enterprise system.

And electricity, supplied by business-managed, tax-paying utilities such as VEPCO, helps make the modern dairy farm a land of milk—and money!

Thanks to cheap Electricity—this tremendous dairy investment and the health of the families in VEPCOland are both protected by electric refrigeration and hot-water-by-wire.

O'BRIEN—COOLEY WEDDING

The Montpelier Presbyterian Church in Wagram, North Carolina, was the scene of a wedding impressive with simplicity and beauty when Miss Frances Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cooley of Wagram, became the bride of Mr. James Howard O'Brien, Jr., son of Mr. J. H. O'Brien of Appomattox, Virginia. The ceremony was performed at four o'clock in the afternoon on June 10th by the Rev. Omar Burnette of Halifax, Virginia, assisted by the Rev. S. B. West of Goochland, Virginia.

Prior to the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Alice Walker of Rarford, North Carolina. The selections included "Cantilene Nuptial" by Dubois, "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" by Saint-Saens, "Evening Star" by Wagner, "Wedding Carillon" by Schreiner, "Meditation" from Thais, "To A Wild Rose" by McDowell, and "Intermezzo" by Mascogri. "Seal Us O Holy Spirit" was played softly during the ceremony. The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional, and the wedding march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" for the recessional. "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer," were sung by Mrs. Wyatt C O'Brien of Raleigh, North Carolina.

A pyramid bank of hydrangea, baby's breath, and magnolia leaves, flanked by cathedral tapers and long leaf pine, formed the setting for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. R. P. Fultz, Jr., of Richmond, Virginia. Her wedding gown of French Candlelight taffeta was exquisitely fashioned with a deep bertha of Chantilly lace, banding a sheer illusion yoke. The long, tapering sleeves were edged with matching lace. A molded bodice accented the full gathered skirt, which fell into a cathedral train. A full-length veil of French Candlelight illusion was worn with a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace, edged with seed pearls. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of Brandywine roses.

Serving her sister as Matron of Honor was Mrs. R. P. Fultz, Jr. of Richmond, Virginia. She wore a gown of lavender marquisette, fashioned with a high neckline, short sleeves with wide puffs, and a full flared skirt. She wore a matching bandeau of Milliner's pluits and carried a bouquet of mixed summer flowers.

The ring bearer was little Daniel Eugene Fultz, nephew of the bride. He wore a white suit and carried the ring on a white silk pillow.

Mr. J. H. O'Brien was his son's best man. Serving as ushers were Lanwood H. Cobbs of Lynchburg, Virginia; Ed Jordan of Mebane, North Carolina; Charles Cooley and W. N. Peden, Jr., both of Wagram, North Carolina.

Mrs. Cooley, mother of the bride, wore a street length dress of ice blue silk, with matching accessories and a shoulder bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. O'Brien was dressed in a street length dress of aqua crepe, with matching accessories and a shoulder bouquet of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception honoring the couple and out-of-town guests was held at the home of the bride.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Chase City, Virginia.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Others who assisted in entertaining the guests were Mesdames Janice Perkins, Naomi Inge, Thelma Drinkard, Estelle Templeton, Faye Russell, Clara Drinkard and Miss Ann Thomas. Handling Tips Offered In Hatching Egg Work

Tips on handling hatching eggs have gone out to farmers from several extension service sources. In the main, farmers are urged to pack such eggs in cases with the small end down, and, if these eggs are marketed twice a week, it will not be necessary to turn them.

If hatching eggs are to be stopped for a short time, the advice continues, keep the room temperature between 45 and 60 degrees.
